

First Home Owner Grant

First Home Owner Grant Act 2000

As at 17 July 2025

The first home owner grant (FHOG) is a one-off payment of up to $10,000 to help eligible applicants buy or build their first new home in Western Australia. There are no income or assets tests to qualify for the FHOG. See Eligibility for more information.

The FHOG is available for new residential dwellings only and does not apply to established homes, vacant land, business premises, holiday houses or minor renovations to an existing home. See New homes for more information.

Duty concession

The first home owner rate is a concessional rate of duty applied to certain transactions, such as a contract to purchase or transfer a home or vacant land.

To be eligible for the first home owner rate, you must meet the eligibility criteria for the FHOG even if a grant is not payable because:

- the transaction was for the purchase of an established home or
- no consideration was paid under the transaction or
- you are an Indian Ocean Territories resident acquiring your first home.

If buying a new or established home:

- the total value of the home and land must not exceed the FHOG cap amount and
- the unencumbered value of the home and land must not exceed the dutiable value thresholds.

If building a new home:

- the total value of the transaction must not exceed the FHOG cap amount and
- the unencumbered value of the vacant land must not exceed the dutiable value thresholds.

To qualify for the first home owner rate on vacant land you must have entered into a comprehensive contract to build a home, or have built a home as an owner-builder, on that land.

See the First Home Owner Rate of Duty fact sheet for more information.

When to apply

You must apply within 12 months of completion of the eligible transaction.¹

Apply after the contract to purchase or build the home has been signed and dated by all parties and appropriately witnessed.

If you are an owner-builder, apply when the foundations have been laid.

If you are purchasing a movable building (such as a modular home) to be used as a residence, you will be considered an owner-builder.

¹ Completion of the eligible transaction is when an applicant acquires the relevant interest in land on which the home is built or the building is ready for occupation as a place of residence, and the applicant is registered on the Certificate of Title.

To be eligible, applications must satisfy the following criteria:

- Each applicant must be a natural person (that is, not a company or trust).²
- Each applicant must be 18 years of age or over at the date of making an application.³
- At least one applicant must be an Australian citizen or permanent resident at the date of making an application.
- Each applicant and/or their spouse⁴ cannot have previously received a FHOG or first home owner rate of duty under this scheme.
- Each applicant and/or their spouse cannot have owned residential property anywhere in Australia before 1 July 2000.
- Each applicant and/or their spouse cannot have previously owned residential property anywhere in Australia on or after 1 July 2000 and occupied that property as a place of residence before 1 July 2004.
- Each applicant and/or their spouse cannot have previously owned residential property anywhere in Australia on or after 1 July 2000 and occupied that property as a place of residence for a continuous period of at least six months that began on or after 1 July 2004.
- Each applicant must occupy the home as their principal place of residence for a continuous period of at least six months, commencing within 12 months of completion of the eligible transaction.
- Each applicant must have entered into an eligible transaction on or after 1 July 2000. An eligible transaction is defined under section 14 of the First Home Owner Grant Act 2000, but is generally a contract for the purchase or construction of a home, or commencement of construction of a home as an owner-builder.
- For eligible transactions commencing on or after 1 January 2010, the total value of the home must not exceed the cap amount. The cap amount is:
 - $750,000 if the property is located south of the 26th parallel of south latitude or
 - $1,000,000 if located north of the 26th parallel of south latitude.
- Each applicant must own the home in their own capacity and not as a trustee of a trust (except as a guardian who holds the interest on trust for a person with a legal disability).

² The Commissioner may consider an application for a home held under a trust for a person with a legal disability.

³ The Commissioner may consider an exemption from this requirement in certain cases.

⁴ A spouse is someone to whom the applicant is legally married, or a de facto partner of 2 years or more, at the commencement date of the eligible transaction.

Supporting documents

Each applicant and their spouse must submit proof of identity documents which include evidence that at least one applicant is an Australian citizen or permanent resident at the time the application is made.

Each application must be accompanied by evidence of the eligible transaction. This may include a copy of the contract to purchase or build the home, or evidence of the costs incurred to construct a home as an owner-builder. In some cases, the Commissioner may require a copy of a valuation of the home.

Residence requirement

Each applicant must occupy the home as their principal place of residence for a continuous period of at least six months, commencing within 12 months of completion of the eligible transaction.

If eligible, the FHOG and/or first home owner rate of duty will be approved with the condition that the residence requirement is satisfied. If you are unable to satisfy the residence requirement you must notify the Commissioner in writing within 30 days of the end of the 12 month take-up period, or the date it becomes apparent you will not be able to fulfil the requirement (whichever is the earlier). If you fail to do so, you may be required to repay the FHOG with penalties and may not be eligible for a future FHOG. If you can clearly demonstrate that the reasons for being unable to satisfy the residence requirements are unforeseen or beyond your control, the Commissioner may consider a written application to:

- reduce the time you are required to live in the home to a period of less than six months
- extend the time allowed for you to commence residing in the home to a period of longer than twelve months or
- if there are two or more joint applicants, exempt an applicant from the residence requirement.⁵

To vary the residence requirements, submit:

- form F-FHOG2 'Reduction or Extension Application: Residence Requirements' or
- form F-FHOG3 'Joint Application Exemption: Residence Requirements'.

The Commissioner will make a determination and advise you whether you are required to repay the FHOG.

New homes

To be considered a new home, the property must not have been previously sold or occupied as a place of residence. This includes use as residential accommodation,⁶ regardless of the duration.

For the purposes of the FHOG, a new home may include a house, duplex, unit, townhouse, apartment, a home purchased off-the-plan or a new home that has been constructed by the applicant or a builder engaged by the applicant.

If the contract is to purchase a home off-the-plan,⁷ it must be a sale between the first home owner and the property developer. If the home has been previously purchased from the property developer by another person and on-sold to the first home owner, it will not be eligible for the ⁵ The applicant exempted from the residence requirement won't be eligible to apply for the FHOG again in the future.

⁶ Residential accommodation includes formal or informal residential tenancy agreements, workers' accommodation and online private rental arrangements, such as AirBnB.

⁷ Off-the-plan refers to a home being purchased as a completed home, such as a house or apartment, where the home is purchased before construction is complete. Settlement occurs when construction of the home is complete and the Certificate of Title has been issued.

FHOG because the transaction to purchase the home is not the first sale. However, it may be eligible for the first home owner rate of duty.

A substantially renovated home may be considered a new home for the purposes of the FHOG if all, or substantially all, of a building is removed or replaced by an entity registered for GST (such as a builder or developer) and sold under a contract as a taxable supply. See Commissioner's Practice FHOG 7 'Substantially Renovated Homes'.

A home that doesn't qualify as a new home will be considered an established home. These homes won't qualify for a FHOG but may qualify for a concessional rate of duty to be applied to the transaction. See Duty concession and the First Home Owner Rate of Duty fact sheet for more information.

Valuation of a home

To be eligible for a FHOG, the total value of the transaction must not exceed the following cap amounts:

- north of the 26th parallel of South latitude – value of land and building must not exceed $1,000,000.

To be eligible for the first home owner rate of duty, the unencumbered value of the home or vacant land must not exceed the dutiable value thresholds. See the First Home Owner Rate of Duty fact sheet for more information.

Prosecution and penalties

We conduct investigations and compliance checks to ensure the FHOG and first home owner rate of duty are only given to people entitled to receive it, and to ensure applicants satisfy the residence requirements.

If you are found to have knowingly made false or misleading statements in connection with an application, you may be prosecuted and we may apply penalties of up to $20,000.

If you fail to reside in the property for six continuous months commencing within 12 months of completion of the eligible transaction, and you haven't received an approved variation to these requirements, you may be required to repay the FHOG with penalties and other costs. This may also result in a duties liability as you may not be eligible for the first home owner rate.

Objections

If you are not satisfied with the Commissioner's decision on an application, you can lodge a formal objection against the decision.
